You are about to purchase a product that is not simple and may be difficult to understand.

What is this product?

Type: The product is a unit-linked single premium life insurance contract.

Objectives: This is a life insurance product that provides you with exposure to financial markets. The value of your product is linked to the value of a portfolio of assets. The investment options available for this product are different investment strategies. The investment strategy you choose determines the assets that may be included in the portfolio of assets. You must choose at least one investment strategy for your product. It will be executed by us or by the asset manager that you have selected and that has been approved by us. The selected investment strategy can be changed throughout the lifetime of the product. Examples of the class of asset that may be bought for the portfolio include the following, although we only permit certain types of assets within each class: funds, shares, bonds, money market instruments, commodities, derivatives (only for the purpose of reducing investment risk or facilitating efficient portfolio management) and structured products. Other assets may be permissible but require prior approval from us. The return you receive on your investment depends on how the portfolio of assets chosen by the asset manager perform. The return on the product will be lower than the return on the underlying portfolio of assets due to the deduction of charges applicable to the product.

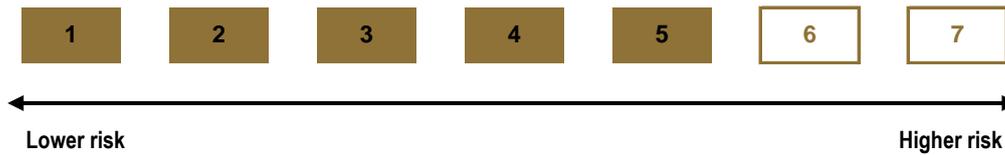

Intended retail investor: The type of intended retail investor depends on the investment option chosen and the risk and return profile of that option. Information on the level of risk and return of your chosen investment option is described in a Specific Information Document (SID) provided by your intermediary and available at www.utmostinternational.com. The SID will contain further information on the intended retail investor for your chosen investment option.

Insurance benefits: You must choose one or more lives assured for your product. The relevant life assured is the individual whose death or whose survival to a specified date triggers the payment of the death benefit or survival benefit. The product has two options: whole of life option where a death benefit is paid upon the death of the relevant life assured, or the mixed option where either a death benefit is paid, depending on when the relevant life assured dies, or a survival benefit is paid. Death benefit: If the relevant life assured for your product dies we will pay the beneficiaries the investment value of the policy as at time of death, less any outstanding policy charges. Survival benefit: If the relevant life assured survives to the maturity date, we will pay the beneficiaries the investment value of the policy at the maturity date, less any outstanding policy charges.

Term of the product: You can choose to have no maturity date (whole of life option) on this product or to have a maturity date (mixed option). We may cancel the product if the investment value drops below €250,000. If you have chosen the whole of life option, the product will automatically terminate upon the death of the relevant life assured. If you have chosen the mixed option, the product will automatically terminate upon the death of the relevant life assured or on the maturity date if the relevant life assured survives to it. The product will automatically terminate on full surrender.

What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Risk indicator

The risk indicator assumes you keep the product for 10 years. The actual risk can vary significantly if you cash in at an early stage and you may get back less. You may not be able to end your product easily or you may have to end at a price that significantly impacts on how much you get back.

This summary risk indicator shows the range of risk classes of all underlying investment options offered within this product. The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you. We have classified the risk classes of the underlying investment options as ranging from 1 out of 7, which is the lowest risk class, to 5 out of 7, which is a medium-high risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance as ranging from a very low level to a medium-high level, and poor market conditions ranging from being very unlikely to impact to being likely to impact the value of the product. Be aware of currency risk. You will receive payments in a different currency, so the final return you will get depends on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not considered in the indicator shown above. Please note this currency risk only applies when the product is not denominated in EUR. The product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment. If we are not able to pay you what is owed, you could lose your entire investment. You will be penalised if you make a full surrender before the second anniversary of the product. Please refer to 'How long can I hold it and can I take my money out early?' The risk and return of your investment varies on the basis of the investment option you choose. The value of the product is linked to the value of an underlying portfolio of assets. In this way, the performance of the product as a whole depends on the performance of the underlying portfolio of assets chosen by your asset manager. You can find specific information about the risk of your chosen investment option in the SID which will be provided to you by your intermediary and is available at www.utmostinternational.com. Please refer to the 'What is this product?' section for information on the insurance benefit the beneficiary receives when a covered event occurs.

What happens if Utmost PanEurope is unable to pay out?

Irish law protects policyholder assets by imposing strict capital management rules and controls to prevent insurer insolvency. We segregate policyholder assets from our other assets and deposit them with independent institutions. In the unlikely event of our insolvency, policyholder claims have absolute precedence over all other claims with regard to policyholder assets, once the costs of liquidation have been met. The policyholder is exposed to the risk of default of any relevant issuer, counterparty and/or credit institution with respect to the underlying assets of the product. The product is not covered by an investor compensation or guarantee scheme.

What are the costs?

The Reduction in Yield (RIY) shows what impact the total costs you pay will have on the investment return you might get. The total costs take into account one-off, ongoing and incidental costs. The amounts shown here are the cumulative costs of the product itself, for three different holding periods. They include potential early exit penalties. The figures assume you invest €10,000. The figures are estimates and may change in the future. The person selling you or advising you about this product may charge you other costs. If so, this person will provide you with information about these costs, and show you the impact that all costs will have on your investment over time. The tables in this section show the range of costs of the product. The cost of the product to you will vary on the basis of the underlying investment option you choose. You can find specific information about the costs of your chosen investment option in the SID which will be provided to you by your intermediary and is available at www.utmostinternational.com. We are required by law to show you the costs of the product based on a premium payment of €10,000. However, please note the minimum premium for the product is €500,000.
